ESSAY - 16 marks

Where Have All the Sparrows Gone?

They were once everywhere. Chirping and flapping their wings at the window sills, on top of cupboards, and on the branches of trees. Where have all the little sparrows gone? This is the most frequently asked question about sparrows these days.

The association between humans and the house sparrows dates back to several centuries and no other bird has been associated with humans on a daily basis like the house sparrow. It is a bird that evokes fond memories of childhood. The nests of sparrows dotted almost every house in the neighborhood as well as public places like bus stands and railway stations, where they lived in colonies and survived on food grains and tiny worms.

A study conducted by the Andhra University, Vishakhapatnam, highlighted the fact that the population of sparrows had fallen by over 60 percent even in the rural areas of coastal Andhra Pradesh. A survey conducted by the British Trust for Ornithology showed that the house sparrow's population in Britain has declined about 510 percent since 1970.

Certainly, there is no single reasons for the decline of the house sparrows. Mobile tower radiation and excessive use of chemical fertilizers are aggravating the problem and have been identified as potent sparrow killers.

It is said that sparrow chicks, which require insect food for their survival in their early days, have not been getting adequate supply from their parents. This has triggered large scale death of chicks, leading to a gradual decline in their population.

Urban landscape too, has been dramatically altered over the years. No longer are sparrows able to find the tiny nooks, crannies, and holes where they used to build their nest.

Typically, sparrows were never an issue of concern for us with their diminutive presence in our household. Perhaps, it is this diminutive presence because of which even their gradual disappearance has gone unnoticed. Mohammed Dilawar is rightly called the Sparrow Man in India as he has been successful in drawing the attention of the world towards the declining number of house sparrows.

House sparrows are an important bio-indicator and their decline is a grim reminder of the degradation of the urban environment and the danger from it to the humans in the long run.

SECTION C
POETRY - 10 Marks

The Leader

Patient and steady with all he must bear,
Ready to meet every challenge with care,
 Easy in manner, yet solid as steel,
 Strong in his faith, refreshingly real,
 Isn't afraid to propose what is bold,
 Doesn't conform to the usual mould,
Eyes that have foresight, for hindsight won't do,
Never backs down when he sees what is true,
 Tells it all straight, and means it all too,
 Going forward and knowing he is right,
Even when doubted for why he would fight,
 Over and over he makes his case clear,
Reaching to touch the ones who won't hear.
Growing in strength, he won't be unnerved,
 Even assuring he'll stand by his word
Wanting the world to join his firm stand,
 Bracing for war, but praying for peace,
 Using his power so evil will cease:
 So much a leader of worthy of trust,
Here stands a man who will do what he must.
